Will my maintenance medications automatically be refilled?

Our auto-refill program automatically fills your ongoing maintenance prescriptions each month. About a week before your medication runs out, the pharmacy will refill it and send it to your preferred address. You'll receive a phone call from the pharmacy once your refill is ready to ship. If you use LiveWell, you can also update your settings to be notified when your prescriptions are filled. To protect your privacy, your prescriptions will be sent in plain, discrete packaging. When you're out of refills, we'll reach out to your doctor through our auto-refill program to help avoid any interruptions to your treatment plan. You can change your auto-refill preferences at any time by calling the pharmacy at 877-409-0148.

Most patients enroll in the auto-refill program so they don’t have to order their refills in the future. Sign up for the auto-refill program at aurorapharmacy.org/mail or by phone at 877-409-0148.

If you prefer to request your refills of maintenance medications directly, contact the pharmacy and they'll make note to only mail items on your request. You can request refills in LiveWell.

What should I do if I am out of refills and need a maintenance medication?

• If you haven’t enrolled in mail order delivery program and need your refill within two weeks, work with your retail pharmacy to obtain a new prescription and fill a grace fill (two 30-day grace fills are allowed at a retail pharmacy per insurance benefits). Then, enroll in the mail order delivery program for future refills.

• If you’re currently enrolled in our mail order delivery program, we’ll reach out to your doctor about two weeks before you run out of a maintenance medication to help avoid any interruptions to your treatment plan. If your provider denies the request or doesn’t respond, a pharmacy team member will contact you to keep you updated.
